orders not to come for Post until advised to do so. The sheriff is still waiting for such advices. He says that a message asking why some word has not been sent would cost $17 one way. The magazines say that a Mexican prison is worse than one in Russia and no doubt Harry would like to be transferred to a prison in a civilized country which should be done as soon as possible.

Five new fire alarm boxes are being installed.

In the Grand Rapids post office there were 3,399,798 pieces of mail matter handled last month with but 40 errors. Each clerk handles 44,442 on the average.

Bennie Lapidus, who recently was released from jail on bail, appeared in the city this morning. Lapidus was convicted of larceny from a store in the day time at the August session of the court and his case was appealed to the supreme court. He remained in jail for several weeks following the verdict but was finally released on bail.

To night Officers and teachers of the Grand Rapids Sunday School association are promised somewhat of a treat in the nature of a lecture to be given by C. Vander Meulen of this city at the First Reformed church. Mr. Vander Meulen's lecture is, "The Trial of Jesus from a Legal Standpoint." Peter A. Ten Haaf will sing two solos, "Come unto Me," by Coenen and "Great is the Holy One of Israel." He will be accompanied by Miss Blanch Hancock at the piano.

The barn of Dr. H. Kremers, corner of 12th and Central avenues was struck by lightning Sunday. The lightning destroyed the weathervane and passed through the shingles of the roof but the damage was only nominal. The awning of H. Nykerk's grocery store, corner of 13th street and Central avenue was torn down by the wind, and part of the awning of Misses Dyke's millinery was also torn from its bearings.

Proving an alibi to the satisfaction of Justice Miles the case against John Warnshuis, the Hope college student who was charged with running a shooting gallery at Jensen Park on Sunday was dismissed Monday. Warnshuis was one of the several who got into trouble for alleged violation of the Sunday closing law. He proved conclusively, however that he was in Chicago at the time and the justice found no cause for action and so dismissed the case.

The Holland City News has published a booklet edited by Rev. A. Oltmans in memory of Dr. John A. Otte, missionary in China who recently died. At least 4,000 of these have already been sold. It is printed in the Holland language. Rev. Oltmans left for Japan yesterday and his work here for the Board of Foreign Missions will be taken up by Rev. J. Van Kersen.

The Detroit Free Press says that G. J. Diekema is willing to retire from the chairmanship of the Republican State Central Committee. "Diek" served as chairman longer than any one man and has done some great work as an organizer. Frank Know, Chase Osborns' campaign manager is slated for the position.

Frank Brazee, a lineman employed by the Holland Interurban company, was the victim of a peculiar accident which may cost him his life. While repairing the trolley line at Elm station, a car hove in sight and struck the rope attached to the wire and fastened to a fence post. Brazee was near the rope and the force of car seems to have dislodged the post which struck him in the head, fracturing his skull.

The body of Mrs. Mary Mawick, was found floating near the beach, about a mile south of Holland harbor by the life saving patrol early Sunday morning. She was about 55 years old, five and a half in height, weighed 140 pounds and of Dutch or German nationality. She was attired in a black waist and skirt and gray sweater jacket. To her waist was fastened a purse containing a set of false teeth, a key and a penny. Early in the evening she was seen walking the piers. She acted strangely and when accosted stated that she was in search of fresh air. It is believed that later she wandered along the beach and committed suicide. Undertaker Nibelink took charge of the remains. They were shipped to Grand Rapids where she has a son living.

One on Harry De Graaf

John Vander Veen tells of a practical joke he played on Harry De Graaf the campaign manager of Deacon Ellis. Harry had a lot of large yellow posters printed for the Ellis meeting which he ordered passed round by a half dozen boys. After the ground had been thoroughly covered the boys brought back the remaining bills to Harry who was at the time in Vander Veen's hardware store. The bills being of no further use, Harry carefully tucked them away, when John was not looking, between two galvanized tubes, where John's clerk found them after the primaries. John bethought himself of a scheme for a good take off on the Grand Rapids assessor. He rolled up the bills neatly in tissue paper, bowed a small piece of crape on each end, wrapping them in a substantial package he addressed them to Harry DeGraaf, care of Bill Chinicks, Pearl street, Grand Rapids, Michigan. The word perishable on the outside, was not forgotten. The dispenser of liquid refreshments quickly placed the package on ice, awaiting Harry when he should call for his buttermilk. Harry came, "A package for you and its perishable," Harry, who was surrounded by the City Hall push, all expecting a succulent fish supper or a brace of ducks, were eagerly waiting for Harry to open the package, which was soon accomplished. A roar of laughter drowned out what Harry said, but the last word audible was Vander Veen.

He Followed Pete McCarthy's example

Editor Jay Palmiter of Fennville is an athletic young man and very daring upon the baseball field. When he went to his home in Fennville late Saturday night he heard "burglars" upstairs, and seizing his trusty Wheeler & Wilson revolver he started up the stairs. When half way up he struck a Napoleonic attitude and in sonarant voice shouted "Come down out of there or I shoot." No one came down and later with neighbors he discovered that a big rat had alarmed him. He straight way went and "shot the rat."

Bobby "Ducked" in Auto

Robert M. Moore of Saugatuck, Chicago, and other places spends $20,000 per year in extravagance and indulgence, his wife asserts in her bill for divorce started a few days ago, says she has stood his ways of living as long as she can, and allegedly once he threatened to reduce her to the extremity of working for a living in order that she could not share in his property. Mr. Moore has been stopping at the Automobile club in Chicago some time, and a deputy sheriff was hanging around there all day Saturday trying to serve notice of the suit on him. It was feared he had learned of the action and skipped out in his automobile. Mrs. Moore claims that her husband is able to "blow in" $20,000 a year without working, having an income from large timber tracts in Louisiana and estates in Colorado, Kansas and Michigan, besides $60,000 a year from a trust estate left by his father. Mrs. Moore asks alimony and an injunction restraining her husband from disposing of his property.

The Moores are well known in Saugatuck, both having lived there, and Mr. Moore is also known in Allegan, where he has relatives and friends.

New Holland.

The classis of Holland of the Reformed church met in regular fall session in the Reformed church of New Holland. The church of New Holland had provided carriages to convey the delegates from the interurban crossing at Waverly and the Pere Marquette station at Harlem. The drive was greatly enjoyed by the classis. A full representation of the churches was present. Rev. H. Veltman of Holland, the retiring president, opened the classis with prayer and after a Dutch psalm the organization was effected.

Rev. J. P. DeJong of the First Zeeland church was elected president and Rev. George Hankamp of Hamilton clerk pro-tem. The following were named: chairman of standing committees: Rev. J. Lumkes, Holland, synodical minutes; Rev. Wm. Moerdyk, D. D., Zeeland, overtures and judiciary business; Rev. H. Dyhuizen, James-town, accounts; Rev. P. P. Cheff, Forest Grove, pulpit supplies; Rev. H. Veltman, Holland, education; and Rev. P. Tieggers, South Blendon, missions.

One of the matters presented to the committee on overtures was a request from Rev. DeLange of the Christian Reformed church to be received by the classis as a member of the Reformed church. Before he can be admitted he must present a certificate from his church.

The request of Rev. J. M. Van Den Bosch, recently pastor of the church of Three Oaks, to be declared pastor emeritus, was granted. Rev. Vanden Bosch now resides at Gann, Ill., and is engaged as agent for the Chicago Tract society.

So many requests for pulpit supplies were made that instead of giving two appointments in each church or mission field per month, only one could be granted.

The classical missionary, Rev. Van Arendonk, made a report of work in this classis which was favorably accepted and his suggestion that the field at Holland be investigated with a view toward organizing a new church or establishing a preaching station there was referred to the committee on church extensions.

Rev. C. Heines and J. P. DeJong were dismissed from the former classis of Holland; the former to join the classis of Passaic, in whose bounds he has accepted a call, and the latter to the classis of Iowa.

Drenthe

Drenthe had a circus a week or so ago, Drenthe never had a circus visit them before, but a show made a one night stand at the little town, making a hurried lump from Vriesland. The name of the show was the Vriesland Variety Co. consisting of clowns, black faced comedians, contortionists, and also sober slack wire performers. The admission to the show was free, therefore the audience was large, standing room was at a premium. After a performance which lasted an hour or two the somewhat so, so actors returned to their headquarters in Vriesland where they will remain no doubt, the enterprise having proved a financial failure. In our next issue will appear the names of the company provided they can be procured.

Harlem

The electric light plant at Harlem, 6 miles north of Holland, a village on the P. M. railroad, has been out of commission for a few nights on account of a strike. The strikers demanded higher wages and won out. Oil lamps and candles were in great demand during the strike. The mayor and the police kept the strikers in good humor and no damage was done. The Harlem station has its own plan and no danger of getting in the dark there. Crisp, a neighboring town took the hint and raised wages at once.

Bentheim

After an illness of one week, Gerrit Wouters died at his home in Bentheim at the age of 65 years. The deceased was born in the Netherlands and was one of the pioneers of this place. He is survived by several brothers and sisters. The funeral services were held Friday from the Reformed church of East Overisel. Rev. Mr. Felman, pastor of the church, officiated. Interment was at Bentheim cemetery.

Forest Grove

A unique innovation has been introduced in the Reformed church at Forest Grove, in the form of a telephone that will lead to the home of the invalids who are unable to come to church. One of the wires will lead to the bedside of Mrs. Vander Wall and another to Mrs. D. Smallegan. When the pastor delivers his sermon the words are caught by a large receiver and transmitted to their homes.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow. Diabetes and finally Bright's Disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Holland citizen.

Otto C. Van Dyk, 28 W. Eighteenth St., Holland, Mich., says: "I can say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the most reliable kidney remedy on the market today. A short time ago I was suddenly taken with a sharp pain in the small of my back. I did not pay much attention to the trouble at first, but it gradually grew worse and my condition became so bad that I was unable to walk. When a member of my family who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results advised me to try them, I procured a box at Geo. L. Lage's Drug Store and I had taken only a few doses before the pains were greatly lessened. I continued using this remedy and gradually improved until I received a complete cure. I attribute my present good health entirely to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

If you could have a typewriter made to order, how would you have it? Built for show—or built for service? Loaded down with attachments, devices and mechanism—or simple, durable and efficient? Would you demand the most machinery—or the best, in materials, workmanship and results?

The ROYAL STANDARD TYPEWRITER

has every quality that you would demand in a made-to-order machine. It meets every requirement of efficiency, durability and economy.

The first thing you notice about the Royal is its simplicity. You see instantly that it is constructed on new and correct principles, with all needless attachments and devices eliminated.

The Royal is built for service. It has only about half as many parts as other standard machines. The simplicity thus secured works for your advantage in four ways: A saving in the original investment; low cost of maintenance; minimum of effort and maximum of convenience in operation; and the long life of the machine.

The price of the Royal is $65—a new standard price for a high grade writing machine.

Retrospect

The recent primary election in which the popular vote changed the old order of things has unquestionably demonstrated that this system of selecting candidates more clearly reflects the will of the people than did the old convention system. In many instances the party tickets would doubtlessly contain different names in the November election had the candidates been nominated by convention as in former years. The News does not hesitate to say that it therefore believes that the primary method is the best at present obtainable. It is true that legislative changes will come and go as experience shows need, but the system will profit by the changes and become even more expressive of public sentiment.

There is however one evil attendant upon this system that can be remedied only by the keenest thought and the exercise of the greatest wisdom upon the part of everyone concerned in the result of a primary election. In the heat of a vigorous campaign incorrect statements are often made in the hope that the tide of victory may be turned in a certain direction. All sorts of false and malicious utterances concerning the candidates are scattered broadcast over the state. The results of this sort of campaigning is apparent in the dominant party. Often there is some faction in that party so seriously injured by this method that even time for cool consideration will not remove the sting or alleviate the suffering, and the majority party comes to the election with a weakness that is only too apparent when the votes are counted.

That this evil follows the primary system of nominations is plain enough to any observer. The campaign starts with the best of intentions in the heart of every candidate. The spirit of the campaign is the let-the-best-man-win spirit. The rivalry is friendly and at their first meetings the candidates indulge in harmless good natured badinage. Soon however some statement is made by one side or the other that is misunderstood. Exception is taken to it by the other side and the battle is on. It is as foolish as the fist fight that invariably follows the small boys' friendly wrestling match.

However it is only fair to the candidates themselves to say that this result is rarely brought about by them. Seldom is anything said derogatory to the character of a candidate save by some overzealous friend of his opponent who desires a victory regardless of consequences, and enters as a participant in the campaign destitute of the finer feelings and motives that are embodied in the great party leaders.

Were it not for the sinister purpose that underlies the making of such charges their ridiculousness would be amusing even to the candidates themselves. For instance a tabulated statement of what purported to be Congressman Diekema's vote upon certain tariff schedules was published throughout the district during the recent campaign. Had Mr. Diekema really voted as there pretended, the statement would have been damaging indeed to his candidacy. But it needed only a glimpse into the Congressional Record and the contrary testimony of several prominent and trustworthy men whom the people knew to be informed to thoroughly establish the falsity of this statement. Laughable in the extreme was the report that went the rounds in Holland that Patrick H. Kelley was a Catholic. This was absurd for two reasons; first because the constitution provides that everyone shall be allowed to worship God according to his own conscience, and also because of the fact that Mr. Kelley is a Methodist, being a deacon in the Methodist church. Equally absurd and many times more damaging to Mr. Kelley was the charge that he was a drinking man, the statement that he had been intoxicated at one of his public meetings being frequently repeated in this city. Not only is Mr. Kelley innocent of such a miserable charge but anyone who knows him well knows that the gentleman has never tasted liquor in his life.

Why are these charges not refuted before election? Why is the mud allowed to remain where it hits? Simply because if a candidate took notice of such self evident malice as this he would be kept busy explaining it and would be deprived of the time essential to carry on a good campaign. Then, too, these malicious and absurd attacks are often made at the last moment of the campaign, and the helpless candidate must go before the people without opportunity to clear himself.

Such was the case of Chase S. Osborn. Charges were made against him that would seem to make of him a veritable wolf in sheep's clothing. There is the strongest probability that these charges, like those against Mr. Diekema and Mr. Kelly, are untrue. They are best refuted by the very character of the man. If this be not sufficiently convincing take the testimony of his fellow citizens who by their vote in his own home locality showed where Mr. Osborn stands among them. Mr. Osborn had no way to meet the charges against him save by resort to the courts—a long tedious process that could not by any possibility have been completed before election day. Yet he was nominated in spite of these charges and insinuations.

That the people who nominated Mr. Osborn were not to be misled by distorted accounts of his past conduct shows that they have themselves exercised that style of wisdom that would well be emulated by the partisan friends of the candidates. They took the proper remedy to correct the one great evil of the primary system. For after all the people must pick the wheat from the chaff in elections of this nature, and that they have done so in the campaign indicates wisdom on the part of zealous partisans and the continued exercise of common sense on the part of the voters constitute the only hope of party harmony. Therefore the News says amen to the congratulatory telegram of Patrick H. Kelley to Chase Osborn the winning candidate.

"The contest is over and you have won. Please accept my congratulations on your nomination. Now for a united party for the November election."

Fees for Collecting Garbage

The board of health has come to the assistance of the city scavenger, who complained of the difficulty in collecting fees for emptying garbage cans. According to the board's drastic order that residents who do not pay will find that the fees have been charged to the tax roll and they will be forced to pay the amount or have their property listed as delinquent. This sounds very well but the system of collecting garbage have been such that no health board or any other board can compel citizens to pay for such service there is no doubt but that all are willing to pay in order to clean away accumulating refuse; but for a long time past there have been a continual quarrel as to who is the garbage man. One day it will be Boss the next day Lievense, and these two have been airing their troubles to the house wife until these good ladies flee at the sight of them. Sometimes they call and sometimes they do not, so that the lady of the house find her back porch littered with garbage receptacles. When the board can give the people a system of garbage collecting which is prompt and businesslike, no doubt, the garbage man will receive his fee promptly.

This is the day of the auto, the airship and the wireless telegraph. But some of the old-time slow coaches still come into play. A wealthy lumber man up North who went in his automobile to visit another gentleman found himself with his touring car stuck in soft sand from which it could not be moved unaided. An obliging farmer of the neighborhood hitched up his ox team and drew the machine out of the predicament into which the vehicle had plunged. Could irony further go? Still, the auto is a good and useful invention and has come to stay, although occasionally, in the case of a breakdown, it stays too long in one place.

The wireless is turning out to be the best criminal catcher in the business. There is no escape for the boldest and shrewdest from its lightning like, tell-tale agility.—News Item.

There is no doubt as to the truth of this statement as it even brings its promoters into the toils.

It Pays to Advertise

In last weeks issue of the News Isaac Kouw advertised a piece of property for sale at $1900.00. By a mistake of the printer the price quoted in the paper was $19.00.

The News was still on the press when Mr. Kouw's telephone rang.

"Hello," said Mr. Kouw.

"Is this Mr. Kouw?"

"Yes."

"I would like to close a deal with you for that property advertised in the News."

Mr. Kouw was elated; before he could reply however the other voice went on.

"The price is as advertised I suppose?"

"Certainly," said Mr. Kouw pleasantly.

"Well, all right. I'll be up to your office right away."

Mr. Kouw thought he would look at the Ad. that had brought such quick results. Glancing at the paper just brought in he saw with dismay that the property was advertised for $19.00.

His office door opened—"Say," said Mr. Kouw to a well known business man, "I'll let you have that property for $19.00 if you can get Mulder Brothers & Whelan to stand the difference."

All week long Mr. Kouw has had opportunities galore to sell the property at the price advertised.

"I knew a few people read the advertisements," said Mr. Kouw to a News man this week, "but I never knew that they are read by every man in town."

It pays to advertise.

Wreck of the Lady Elgin

The terrible marine disaster of the Pere Marquette No. 18 car Ferry plying between Ludington and Milwaukee with the sinking of which twenty-eight lives were snuffed out, brings back to memory the terrible disaster of the Lady Elgin.

Exactly 50 years ago on September 8, 1860, there occurred the greatest marine disaster in the history of navigation on the Great Lakes, one of the greatest in the history of the world—the loss of the steamer Lady Elgin with 283 of her passengers and crew.

The steamer Lady Elgin was sunk in collision with the schooner Augusta in Lake Michigan, off Evanston, Ill. She left Chicago about 11 o'clock in the evening of September 7, on her regular run for Lake Superior. On board were 300 excursionists that she had brought over that morning from Milwaukee, 50 passengers from Chicago, and her crew of 35, making a total of 385.

As she was steaming northward with lights all set the schooner Augusta, with no lights, swept out of the gloom and crashed into the midships gangway on the steamer's port side.

Most of the Lady Elgin's passengers had retired; others were dancing to the strains of sweet music in the cabin forward, all unconscious of the impending danger and death soon to overtake them panic seized them. A lifeboat lowered to investigate the extent of the steamer's damage dropped astern and was lost in the night. Meantime the steamer was filling rapidly. As she began to sink many of the passengers threw themselves overboard. Before the wrecked vessel took her final plunge, within 20 minutes after she was struck, a heavy sea swept away most of her upper works and a number of passengers.

Of the 385 persons on board only 98 reached shore alive, 18 in her two lifeboats, 14 on a raft and others on pieces of wreckage. A large raft so heavily loaded with human beings that it was almost wholly submerged, was broken up by the waves before it reached the shore. Most of those who had sought to escape on it, including Capt. Wilson, master of the steamer, were lost.

Following the collision, the Augusta drifted away in the darkness. So bitter was the sentiment against her as a result of the frightful tragedy that her owners, in the effort to disguise her identity, soon afterward changed her name to Colonel Clinton. Later she was sent down to the Atlantic coast and was lost.

In commemoration of the tragic anniversary and of the heroism of a former student, there will be hung in the halls of Northwestern university, Chicago, an oil portrait of Edward Spencer, who, at the risk of his own life, unaided and alone, rescued 16 persons from the wreck. Mr. Spencer was a member of the sophomore class at the time. He is an old man now in feeble health. The portrait is bestowed upon the university by his friends that students of the future may have a reminder of the heroic deed.

The above cut is a photograph of a store building, owned by Al Vandenberg, which was damaged in the recent storm at Decatur, Mich. Mr. Vandenberg is well known here, having formerly conducted a grocery store in this city. The stock was practically a total loss.

Hope College Musical Department Opens

Henry C. Post, who has charge of the piano department and Francis Campbell who has charge of the vocal school will be in their studios in Voorhees Hall on Thursday, Sept. 22nd to meet pupils and arrange dates and hours for lesson engagements.

Miss Catherine Conlon will meet her violin pupils on Tuesday the 20th in the afternoon.

It is the desire of the music faculty to establish a more efficient system of recitals for pupils so as to encourage those who are studying and also as a training in playing and singing before others.

The idea of a music school should be to teach students, not only to appreciate and execute the best there is in music, but to be able to show parents and friends what they are learning and gain practice and experience in entertaining others with the music acquired in the class room. It is the argument that this can be more successfully acquired by the frequent informal pupil's recital than by the more formal public concert as is the usual custom.

A very busy and successful season is anticipated and indicated for the Hope College Musical Department.

Kelley and Donnelly

Closing up a deal which was in progress Saturday, John A. Kelley and B. P. Donnelly have bought the local plant and real estate of the Kinsella Glass company and the River street plant will pass in their control at once. This development of the situation comes as the result of the split in the company which caused the resignation of the two managers, and the partners will step right into the active management again.

President John J. Kinsella spent Saturday here conferring with Messrs. Kelley and Donnelly and the decision to sell the plant was made at that time. The plant was erected here five years ago and during that time the management has built up a fine trade with the furniture manufacturers of this section, supplying them with mirror plate and art glass. The plant at present employs about 50 men and no change will be made in the work force though the change in ownership. The company will be conducted as a limited corporation with Kelley and Donnelly as partners.

Zeeland Party Autos Through State

Henry DeKruif took a party from Zeeland for a trip to Detroit in their Reo car. They took their route due east by way of Byron Center, Caledonia, Lake Odessa, Lansing—Detroit. Left Zeeland at 5:30 a. m. arriving at Lansing at 9:40 a. m. and at Detroit at 2:45 p. m., taking them nine hours and fifteen minutes to drive across the state, including stops for lunches, etc. Actual running time eight hours and fifteen minutes; distance 185 miles. The day was delightful and except for unfavorable road conditions on account of road repairs and heavy rains the night previous east of Lansing, the party enjoyed the trip and all felt fine on arrival at destination. In the party were H. DeKruif, Paul H. DeKruif, Edward DePree, Misses Anna M. Kremer and Marie DeVries. They stopped in Detroit on Thursday, driving around that beautiful city and suburbs nearly all day, returning for home Friday, leaving Detroit at 5 a. m. by way of Pontiac, Holly, Durand, Owosso, St. Johns, Ionia, Lowell, Ada, Grand Rapids, arriving at Zeeland at 4:45 p. m. distance 245 miles; stops for lunches, etc., one hour and fifteen minutes. Both routes traversed fine country and some beautiful scenery.

General Items

Workmen, who were excavating for a new road at Gettysburg, unearthed 850 bullets. It is thought that the bullets belonged to the Pennsylvania reserves and were dropped off the ammunition wagon during the quick movements of the day in the battle of 1863. The bullets were found some distance from Mead's headquarters.

Announcement is made by the lighthouse department at Washington, that the intensity and character of the light at White shoal light station, northerly end of Lake Michigan, will be changed from fixed white to a single white flash every eight seconds, and by changing from an oil light shown through a lens lantern at a height of 115 ft. above the water to an incandescent oil vapor light shown through a second order lens at a height of 125 feet above the water. The light will be viable in clear weather about 20 miles. A permanent light will be established about September 10 at Rock of Ages light station, Lake Superior. The light will be of the second order, showing a double white flash every 10 seconds. The illuminant will be incandescent oil vapor.

A canary's ears are back of and a little below its eyes. They are not hard to find when one has learned learned where to look. There is no outer ear, such as animals have, but simply a small opening which is covered by feathers. It is quite surprising that birds should possess the very acute hearing which they do while lacking the fleshy flap which enables the animals to catch the sounds.—St. Nicholas.

Paper on "Parcel's Post"

Today the Postmaster Mr. G. Van Schelven and J. H. Parr, postmaster of Castle Park, will journey to Kalamazoo to attend the annual convention of the state postmasters' association. Mr. Parr is on the program for a paper on the "Parcel's Post". This subject has engaged the attention of the entire country since the drafting of the Republican platform in 1908 and contains one of the biggest problems before the postoffice department today.

About 400 postmasters are expected to be present. The convention will really be two separate meetings. The first and secondclass postmasters open their gathering Thursday morning in the Y. M. C. A. building and will continue through Friday evening. The third and fourth postmasters meet on Wednesday and Thursday in the Commercial club rooms for their business session. While the state association is really two separate bodies they always arrange their convention to join in any entertainments given, while the business of each body is entirely separate. Officers are elected for each division.

The annual meetings are held for the betterment of the work and many good points are gained each year. Prominent visitors from Washington are expected to give addresses.

While the association has no relative issue at stake this year, there are many things to come up and the business sessions will be full of interest. A number of papers will be given at the meeting among them "How We May Economize Without Impairment of the Service," "Education of the Public," "The Efficiency Record," "R. F. D. Problems," "Some Things We Would Like to Tell the Department," "A Post Office of the Fourth Class."

At the Majestic

When the curtain rises on the first act of "The Little Girl That He Forgot" in which play Beulah Poynter will appear at the Majestic Thursday evening and for the remainder of the week. One is struck by the loveliness and the pretty naturalness of the scene, and then Miss Poynter comes running on the stage as June Holly, the little swamp angel, a role in which she is said to be making the greatest success of her career. The piece is said to be an elaborate scenic production and the cast exceptionally strong.

Alle D. Zuidema of this city whose marriage took place here a few weeks ago and who will give an organ recital at the Methodist church tomorrow evening, is attracting considerable attention in musical circles in Detroit where he is instructor in the Detroit Conservatory of Music. The Detroit News this morning printed a cut of Mr. Zuidema and gave a description of the organ of the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church:

"The organ at this church is one of the largest and best in the city, being one selected by Gullmant on his last visit to this city, and the church has secured for this season the services of Alle D. Zuidema an organist of marked ability. From time to time during the season the choir will be assisted by other artists: violinists, cellists, etc. and all visitors at the church will be assured of a hearty welcome."

THREE TEMPTING QUESTIONS.

Matthew 22:15-22; 34:46.—September 18.

"Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's."

THE Pharisees and Sadducees of our Lord's day were the leaders of religion. They had formed a trust or federation, so to speak, and rarely made an attack upon each other, although their doctrines were directly opposed. The Pharisees acknowledged God and the prophets and the Law, and believed in a future life by a resurrection from the dead, and believed in a coming Messiah to exalt their nation and through it to bless the world. The Sadducees believed nothing of the kind—they were agnostics, Higher Critics. They were making the best of the present life, doubting any future existence. The Pharisees opposed Jesus because he did not acknowledge them, but criticised them, and showed the hypocrisies of their claims to be perfect and holy in the keeping of the Law, and reproved them for their lack of sympathy with the poor and less pretentious.

The Sadducees opposed Jesus because, from their standpoint of unbelief, he was a fraud. But even as a fraud they would not have bothered themselves to oppose him, only that they perceived that he was gaining an influence with the people—an influence which they feared might, sooner or later, lead to some disturbance of the peace and unfavorably influence the conduct of the Roman Empire towards the Jews. So while the Sadducees and Pharisees both opposed Jesus, their opposition was for different reasons.

The triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, and the crying of the multitude, "Hosanna to the Son of David," the Messiah! awakened envy in the minds of the Pharisees. But in the Sadducees it produced a fear that the common people should become so aroused as to involve their nation in some strife with the Empire. The Pharisees strove to turn away the sympathy of the people from the Great Teacher, and, to this end, sought to catch him in his words by putting the question, "Is it lawful to give tribute?"

They reasoned that if Jesus would say, it is not unlawful, they would have little difficulty in having him arrested as a leader of sedition and thus compel Pilate to put him to death. They reasoned further that if Jesus should answer that it was lawful to give tribute to Caesar he would thereby alienate the sympathy of the multitude, which cried "Hosanna!" after him; for the Jews held, almost superstitiously, the idea that they, as God's Kingdom, must not pay tribute to any earthly Kingdom—that it would be irreverent to do so, excepting under compulsion. We notice how artfully they endeavored to ensnare the Master by complimenting him upon his truthfulness, saying, "Master, we know that thou art true!" Not only so, but they sought to impress upon him their appreciation of him as a Teacher—that he would teach the light, the Truth, at any cost. And so they said, "Thou teachest the way of God in truth!" And further, they fortified their position by saying, "We know that thou regardest not the person of men!"

These treacherous compliments were intended to ensnare him, but he promptly answered, "Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?" Why do you veil your base designs under guise of speaking for the Truth? "Show me the tribute money." This was, literally, the census coin in which the tax was to be paid. They handed him a denarius, the usual wage for the day laborer, corresponding in value to about seventeen of our cents. Jesus asked, "Whose is this image and superscription?" They answered, "Caesar's." Jesus replied, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." No wonder the wily Pharisees were troubled to know how to catch him in his words! On the contrary, they were caught; for all of their complimentary remarks stood to his credit in the minds of the common people.

Next, the Sadducees, the agnostics, tried to entrap the Great Teacher by asking one of their stock questions. Seven different brothers in turn married the same woman and all died before she did. To which of them will she be wife in the resurrection? They did not ask, To which will she be wife in heaven or Purgatory or eternal torture, for neither Jesus nor the Jews held any such teaching. The Pharisees and Jesus taught the resurrection of the dead, and it was against this teaching that the Sadducees aimed their sarcastic question.

Note the majesty of the Master's answer: "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, neither the power of God!" You do not understand the Scripture teaching respecting such questions, and you are ignoring in your question the great Divine power which, at that resurrection time, will be exercised and will straighten out all the difficulties of the situation. Then the Great Teacher proceeded to inform them that such as would (gradually) attain to the resurrection, such as would get a complete raising up out of sin and death conditions, would "neither marry nor be given in marriage," but would be sexless, as are the angels. Thus the supposed great and unanswerable question of the Sadducees fell flat and their ignorance was exposed.

Next, one of the Doctors of the Law endeavored to entrap the Lord on a question of the relative importance of the Divine commandments, asking which Jesus considered the great one of all. The Great Teacher promptly divided the ten commandments into two, according to the Law (Deut. 6:5), and answered, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind." This is the first and great (chief) commandment. And the second is like unto it—"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets." What could the Lawyer say to such a summarization of the Law? He had nothing left to say. He was answered as never before.

The Great Teacher asked the Pharisees, "What think ye of the Messiah? Whose Son is he?" They answered, "The Son of David." The Teacher then queried, "How then doth David in spirit (prophetically) call him Lord, saying, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand till I make thine enemies thy footstool? If David then calleth him Lord, how is he his Son?"

Of course the question was too deep for the Pharisees. The Great Teacher could answer all of their questions, but they could not answer his. How beautifully clear we see it to be that the Messiah, according to the flesh, was torn of the lineage of David, but that God's purposes were not fully accomplished in Messiah of the flesh—that he lay down his flesh, sacrificially, and was raised from the dead to the plane of glory, honor and immortality, "far above angels, principalities and powers." We perceive that in the days of his flesh he was the Son of David, but that in his glorification he is David's Lord in that David will receive through him, in due time, not only resurrection from the dead, but also the blessings of participation in the Messianic Kingdom. The father of Messiah in the flesh will thus become the son of the Messiah of glory, whose earthly life is to be the restitution price for the whole world, including David. Thus it is written, "Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children, whom thou mayest make princes (rulers) in all the earth."—Psa. 45:16.

Born on Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Age DeVries—a son. Sunday a similar incident happened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bakeman.

One of the bald eagles that make their home on Point Sapior was shot Thursday near Mr. Jones' place, on the north side of the lake, under the mistaken idea that it was a hen hawk, the bird at the time being partly concealed by the foliage. It is a pity thus to lose the few national birds that still remains with us, but as we are informed the party that done the killing regrets the incident as much as any one. The bird was procured by Lawyer Visscher, who has forwarded it to a taxidermist at Grand Rapids, for preservation.

Securing the right of way through the city, and for the eastern approach, has monopolized most of the time of the promoters of the new railroad during the week, while Capt. McLaughlin and his corps have been busy in running the line where it has been finally decreed that the road is to be built.

In coming from Grand Rapids the road keeps south of Zeeland village. Nearing Holland it runs between Black River and the C. & W. M., crossing their main track about 500 feet west of the Waverly switch, and following the river until it crosses it at a point where it again intersects the C. W. M. track, at the north end of the trestle work of the G. H. railroad bridge, and from there in a direct line to River street, crossing said street near the premises of Geo. Nauta, thence towards the head of Black Lake, crossing the Lake street switch near the intersection of Third street; thence south, touching the steam boxes of the stove factory, and circling through the marsh west along Seventh street towards Black Lake, following the shore somewhat closer than former surveys. At the bluffs in Bay View Addition the line encroaches upon the waters edge.

Edward Post, Neal Van der Meulen, and Robert Kremers, came up from Holland on the Music yesterday and were pleasantly entertained by Stephen Brouwer and Robert DeBruyn. They were taken about the city and Spring Lake and shown the various places of interest. In the evening they rode about town giving the Hope College and Holland High School yell.

Early last week word was received in Holland that Mrs. David L. Boyd who was visiting her old home at Williamston, N. The Allegan team would like to meet the Holland team Oct. 3 or 4 at Allegan or they would come here for a game during the fair. Local News

The Treble Clef will hold their first meeting of the year in the Music Hall in the Vischer block this evening.

Mr. F. D. Souther, who travels for the Standard Biscuit Co., of Detroit, left Sunday evening for Denver and Colorado Springs, Colo., for a two weeks trip. Will combine business with pleasure.

Lineman Taylor employed by the Holland Interurban had a narrow escape at Zeeland yesterday and only two hours of strenuous treatment by Dr. H. H. Riegerink of that city saved his life. By mistake Mr. Taylor swallowed carbolic acid and his condition for some time was very serious.

The denomination known as the Holy Saints has broken ground for a new church on East Fourteenth street on a lot sold to them by Henry Vrieling. There are twenty families in Holland belonging to this congregation and until the new church is completed service will be held in the homes of the members. The building will be ready for occupancy before winter.

The members of the M. E. church have placed the stamp of approval upon the work of their pastor Rev. P. E. Whitman, who has served the congregation since Rev. Jenkins left. At the quarterly conference held in the church parlors and presided over by Rev. J. R. T. Lathrop of Grand Rapids, the district superintendent, it was decided unanimously to ask for the return of Mr. Whitman for another year. The work of the pastor has been so successful that the congregation wishes it continued. The reports of the various societies were very satisfactory and showed that all branches of the church work are in a flourishing condition. The receipts of the Ladies Aid society for the year amounted to $718.

Separate Vacations

"This season has showed me," said a Michigan resort hotel proprietor, "that it is becoming more and more popular for husbands and wives to take separate vacations."

"The argument is that a complete change is needed—that a husband and wife bore one another and prevent one another from making new friends—that, together, they keep each other from having a real change."

"That sounds very fine, no doubt, but my hotel experience proves that the husband and wives who take separate vacations separate altogether in a year or so, after some very spicy divorce court gossip in the press."

"Separate vacations," ended the hotel man, "suggest but too vividly the middle-aged couple discovered kissing on a moonlit pier."

"How ideal!" said an onlooker, "Are they married?"

"Yes," said another onlooker, "Yes, their married, but not to each other."

Hope Church Notes

The ordination of Prof. John W. Beardslee, Jr., and the installation of Rev. Edward Niles will take place next Thursday evening.

On Sunday morning, Mr. Niles preaches upon the second question in the Catechism "What we must know to have real comfort." The evening topic is "Why I am in the Reformed Church."

The beautifully redecorated chapel will be used again next Sunday and give new zest to the various meetings there held.

Monday evening the Wagner Male chorus had its first meeting in the Music Hall. The meeting showed that prospects for a successful year are very bright. Several new active members joined the chorus and several more signified their intentions of doing so soon. A new constitution was adopted and other matters of routine business transacted. One of the features of the evening was a talk by H. Uden Masman. Interested in Holland's musical development as well as its progress in other lines, he gave a characteristic talk that was heartily applauded. After light refreshments were served the club spent an hour in taking up new music. John Vander Sluis also gave the boys a good business like talk.

Diekema Presides Over County Convention

Congressman Gerrit J. Diekema presided over the Republican county convention at the court house in Grand Haven yesterday. Jacob Glerum of this city was secretary.

In assuming the chair, Mr. Diekema made a rattling speech in defense of the Republican party and its policies. He spoke for a protective tariff and for real progressiveness in congress. During the course of his enthusiastic remarks he was often interrupted by applause.

The following committee were appointed to expedite the business of the convention. Credentials: Wells, Bilz and Van Schelven. Permanent Organization: Savidge, Stephan and Hubert Pelgrim.

The recommendation that a committee of five appointed by the chair, select the delegates to the state convention was adopted, and the following were chosen as delegates: 1st district, C. C. Coburn, E. P. Stephan Wm. O'Connell, Luke Lugers, M. A. Sjoy, W. I. Lillie, Ben Mulder, George A. Farr, sr., N. J. Whelan, G. Van Schelven, Chas. H. McBride. 2nd district: William Savidge, Chas. Wells, Albert Lahuis, Colon C. Lillie, E. A. Brown, Jared Clark, L. M. Wolf, Walter H. Clark, Henry Bosch, H. F. Harbeck, Millard Durham. The selection of the committee was chosen by the convention without dissent.

Judge Kirby was re-elected chairman of the county convention and Jacob Glerum was again made secretary. Henry DeGlopper, Neil McMillan, C. W. Cotton and Fred Schmidt are new members of the county committee from this city.

While the reports of the committees were awaited, the nominees for county office were heard in short speeches. Nick Whelan, who was Kelley's campaign manager, made a rattling speech and asked the convention members to remember they were Republicans and vote for Chase S. Osborn, and the whole Republican ticket at the election in November. At the close of the convention Dr. C. P. Brown of Spring Lake asked that the delegates be instructed for Grant Fellows for attorney general. The motion called forth a protest against instructing for anybody and the doctor withdrew his motion. There were 109 delegates present. Grand Haven Tribune.

Should the boy or girl earning the Grand Premium prefer it, we will pay the first year's expenses, to the extent of $200.00, toward the education of the boy or girl in any college in the land, or if a musical education is sought, to any musical college in the land. Here is an opportunity, boys and girls, to get a good start on the road to an education.

Or we will present the boy or girl with $200.00 worth of books, same to be chosen from A. L. Burt Company's book catalog. The firm is located at 52-58 Duane Street, New York City, and are conceded to be the world's largest book publishers.

GUIZOT

The United States Government purchase almost exclusively from this firm all books that are used in the libraries connected with the Navy and Army.

Any one of the three premiums can be chosen by the winning contestant—it being understood that should the sale of season tickets result in a TIE SALE that the premiums will be equally divided amongst the TIEING CONTESTANTS.

Any one of these GRAND PREMIUMS are valued at $200.00. Don't you think they are great? Don't you think they are worth working hard for? And you will have to work hard, as busy boys and girls in 200 towns will be working for the same premiums, and there will only be one town and one boy or girl, who will be fortunate enough to say, "I earned the trip to Chicago, the first year's course at College, or the $200.00 worth of books."

WHAT AND WHERE IS THE TOWN THAT HOLDS THE FORTUNATE BOY OR GIRL?

The girls and boys who wish to earn these splendid Books and Premiums should apply to the person whose name appears below, who has charge of the Course in this city, who will show you samples of the books to be given away and furnish you with tickets to sell.
